DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1, 2, 8-13, 15, 21 and 22, drawn to a switch destination such that data of high preference score has high probability.

Group II, claim(s) 3, 4, 24 and 25, drawn to a switch destination such that data of low preference score has high probability.

Group III, claim(s) 5, drawn to a preference score limit setting unit setting a lower limit of preference score.

Group IV, claim(s) 6, drawn to a preference score limit setting unit setting a higher limit of preference score.

Group V, claim(s) 7, drawn to a new arrival information obtaining unit obtaining new arrival information.

Group VI, claim(s) 16-19, drawn to a data output time determining unit determining time of data output by said output unit.

Group VII, claim(s) 20, drawn to a control signal for switching data to be output by said output apparatus from the data that is being output at present to data as said switch destination different from said data that is being output, wherein said switch destination data determining unit determines probability of data to be said switch destination such that data of high preference score has high probability, based on the result of counting of the preference score by said preference score counting unit

Art Unit: 2621

Group VIII, claim(s) 23, drawn to a control signal for switching data to be output by said output apparatus from the data that is being output at present to data as said switch destination different from said data that is being output, wherein said switch destination data determining unit determines probability of data to be said switch destination such that data of low preference score has high probability, based on the result of counting of the preference score by said preference score counting unit.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-VIII do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Invention I has unique inventive concept such as including negative votes for representing low preference.

Invention II has unique inventive concept such as a switch order for data of low preference score has high probability.

Invention III has unique inventive concept such as a score limit for data of high preference score has high probability.

Invention IV has unique inventive concept such as a score limit for data of low preference score has high probability.

Invention V has unique inventive concept such as obtaining new arrival information.

Invention VI has unique inventive concept such as determining time of data having higher preference score to be longer.

Invention VII has unique inventive concept such as a control signal for switching data such that data of low preference score has high probability.

Invention VIII has unique inventive concept such as a control signal for switching data such that data of low preference score has low probability.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.
